INVENTOR(S)   : Jose P. Pereira et al.

It is certified that error appears in the above-identified patent and that said Letters Patent is hereby corrected as shown below:

Column 58, line 14, change   "a multiplexer"

                        to -- a multiplexer to output a predetermined priority value in an operation to determine where to store a first value within the CAM, and to output a selected priority value from the priority index table in an operation to determine whether a specified value is stored within the
